DCs MAIN SESSION

Our Digital Future: How IGF Dynamic Coalitions support the Global Digital Compact

This interactive main session at IGF 2022 will have two panels. The first panel will discuss how specific intersessional activities of IGF dynamic coalitions can contribute to the evolution of the “IGF+” eco-system. The second panel will consider how individual dynamic coalitions can contribute to the development of the Global Digital Compact (GDC) to be agreed at the UN Summit of the Future in September 2024; and to the consultations undertaken during the UN General Assembly’s “WSIS+20” Review in 2025.

Speakers:
Amandeep Singh Gill, UN Secretary-General's Envoy on Technology
 Ex-Officio Member of IGF Leadership Panel
Paul Mitchell, Chair of IGF MAG
Dynamic Coalitions representatives

Moderators:
Markus Kummer, Co-facilitator of IGF Dynamic Coalitions

IRPC MEETING

Access & participation as enablers of digital human rights

The session will reflect on the importance of meaningful access and participation in the Internet for the full enjoyment of human rights. It will highlight the urgency of safeguarding and upholding fundamental rights and freedoms online and the possibility of redress for alleged violations and identify major challenges when it comes to enabling and protecting the rights of minorities; it will discuss meaningful access in light of equal and affordable access to a safe online environment and demonstrate how full participation can only exist in the context of a free and open Internet.

Speakers:
Catherine Muya, Civil Society, (Article 19), Youth
Neema Lugangira MP, Government (Tanzania)
Private Sector representative (TBC)
Victor Ndede, Civil Society (Amnesty International Kenya)
Yohannes Eneyew Ayalew, Technical Community, Youth

Safeguarding human rights with a free and open Internet

How can Internet access be made viable for everyone? What can stakeholders do to make true commitments, such as those in the SDGs, from public and private power holders to ensure the internet is affordable and easy to access? In what ways can governments demonstrate commitment to ensuring an open, free and accessible Internet for all? This session will help identify what the major challenges or barriers governments face in ensuring an available, open and accessible Internet for all and how those challenges could be overcome.

Speakers:
Felicia Anthonio, Civil Society (Access Now)
Dr. Xianhong Hu, Intergovernmental Organisation (UNESCO)
Mohamed Farahat, Civil Society, IRPC SC Member
Dr. Dennis Redeker, Academia, University of Bremen,
 IRPC SC Member

Moderation:
